The Chreshold is a full-length documentary about homelessness and the effects of the evictions, showing the reality of people who have lived this situation as a result of the crisis, illnesses or several situations (some of daily life) that have taken them being homeless.

It counts with people who have suffered homelessness, institutions of the third sector that carry out field work and national and international experts. An European vision is offered regarding the causes and the effects of homelessness from a skin perspective, where the experience is contrasted by the information and it shows what is hidden behind the numbers of the scientific study that we use as a main reference source.
